Lionfish cullers are you ready?
“Eat ‘em to Beat ‘em” is the advice being given to us to deal with the pesky and destructive lionfish which have invaded our reefs and are harming the ecosystem. That means that it’s time to dust off those spears and mark your calendars for the 7th Annual Groundswell Lionfish Tournament, taking place at the Bermuda Institute of Ocean Sciences (BIOS) on Saturday, July 22nd.

The tournament starts at sun up and all boats must be at the BIOS dock for the 3pm weigh-in.

From 2.30pm, all are invited to party-for-a-purpose at the Bermuda Institute of Ocean Sciences (BIOS), to enjoy a family-friendly afternoon of live music, lionfish tasting, a Gosling’s bar, lionfish handling demos, kids arts and crafts, and more, until 7.30pm.

Entry to this event is free. The tournament entry costs $25 per person and includes an event t-shirt designed by Avarie Graham. To register, visit pTix.bm
